

Model Script for Financial Reports

Because the Financial Reports are so important, here is the script for what the president says, what the financial officers say and what the recording secretary writes. In this script, the officers have made the motions because they know the correct wording. However, anyone could make these motions as long as the correct wording is used.

"I have examined the financial records of the treasurer of Selena Sloan Butler Middle School PTSA and find them substantially correct. Financial review completed February 15, 2020."
